The 422 chairs and stools are available in oak and beech wood, and come in 3 different heights. They can be upholstered with a seatpad.

The extra metal connection guarantees a long life for frequently used chairs, and also make it stackable. The 422 is a highly popular chair for the education sector, and is often displayed in auditoriums.

ARTICLE 1 | OFFERS AND ACCEPTING ORDERS

- 1. All offers with no period of validity given are non-binding.
- 2. The designs, illustrations, drawings and dimensions shown, annexed or shared in the offers give a general representation of the products proposed. Changes in the construction as a result of which the actual version deviates from the intended design, illustrations, drawings or dimensions, but in which there is no significant change in the technical and aesthetic aspects of the products, do not oblige the vendor to offer the purchaser any compensation nor to give the purchaser any right to refuse to receive or to pay for the products delivered.
- 3. Illustrations and drawings supplied by the vendor shall always remain the property of same and must be returned to it upon request; on failure to do so the holder shall pay the value determined by the owner.
- 4. All purchase agreements are entered into under the condition precedent that the purchaser is sufficiently creditworthy. If the vendor does not invoke the condition precedent within one month, the agreement is definitive.
- 5. If purchaser is in default for the settlement of any agreement with vendor, the vendor at all times has the right to require adequate security from purchaser to meet its payment obligations before vendor delivers.
- 6. Changes to and cancellations of orders by the purchaser are only valid with the vendor's prior written statement of approval. The vendor may charge fees for this.
- If at the purchaser's request the vendor decides to upholster the products ordered by the purchaser with an upholstery fabric provided by the purchaser (so called proprietary fabric), then the purchase agreement shall be made under the following conditions:
  - Proprietary fabric shall be delivered free domicile to the vendor.
- . The purchaser must supply a label including its name and address, the order number and the article number for the proprietary fabric cut.
- The vendor accepts no liability if the purchaser sets special requirements on the processing of proprietary fabric it supplied with respect to grain line or design without providing clear processing instructions.
- · Under no circumstances are remnants of the proprietary fabric supplied returned or eligible for reimbursement unless otherwise agreed in writing.
- For products upholstered with proprietary fabric or commissioned fabric, the delivery period goes into effect only after receipt of the fabric. The vendor shall confirm receipt to purchaser as soon as it has accepted delivery of the fabric.

ARTICLE 2 | DELIVERY PERIOD

- The statement with respect to the delivery period is approximate. To as great an extent as possible the vendor is obliged to comply with the specified delivery period, but is not responsible for the consequences of exceeding it which it could not reasonably have prevented. Such a delay shall not require any compensation from the vendor, nor shall it give the purchaser the right to terminate the agreement.
- 2. When the expected delivery period as referred to in paragraph 1 of this article is exceeded, the vendor shall be granted a further time period to make the delivery. This further time period is the same as the originally expected delivery period extended by a maximum of one month. If this further time period is exceeded, the purchaser shall have the right to terminate the agreement without notice of default or legal intervention and/or to demand compensation.
- 3. All orders placed on demand must be accepted by vendor at the agreed upon date without any further notice from seller being required.
- The buyer is obliged to take delivery of the products at the agreed time. If the Buyer is unwilling or unable to take delivery of the products at the agreed time, the Buyer shall owe the Seller, in addition to Article 3.3, a fee to be determined by the Seller. Article 1 paragraph 6 applies to a request by the Buyer to change the delivery time.

ARTICLE 3 | TRANSFER OF RISK

- If it has been agreed that vendor transports the products, the risk shall be transferred to the purchaser on delivery. In all other cases the risk shall be transferred at the time vendor makes the products available to the purchaser.
- All products shall be transported at the purchaser's expense unless the freight costs are included in the price.
- 3. If the purchaser refuses to receive products delivered to it correctly and undamaged, the resulting freight costs, storage expenses and so forth shall be at its expense.

ARTICLE 4 | PAYMENT

- 1. The vendor must receive all payments without any set-off within two weeks after the invoice date. In the event the delivery is after the invoice date, the day of delivery shall be considered the invoice date
- Any credit notes shall be settled on the next invoice, but in any event within one month.
- 3. In the event of late payment, the purchaser shall owe an interest payment of 1% of the amount invoiced for every month or any part thereof by which the due date is exceeded, with a maximum of 10% per year.
- 4. The purchaser shall be in default by the mere expiry of the payment due date or of failure to meet any other obligation; nevertheless the vendor shall send one written reminder before taking further action.
- 5. The expiry of the payment due date shall result in the immediate acceleration of payment of all outstanding invoices, even if they are not yet due.
- If the purchaser is declared bankrupt, requests suspension of payment or decides to liquidate, the vendor shall have the right to terminate the agreement effective immediately and to take back the delivered, as yet unpaid for products, without prejudice to its right to compensation.
- 7. In the event of late payment the purchaser is obliged to pay all extra-judicial costs, including the administration costs and the legal assistance and advice prior to the procedure. The extra-judicial collection costs shall be calculated as follows:

PRINCIPAL (TO AND INCLUDING)	APPLICABLE PERCENTAGE
€ 2.500	15% over the principal
€ 5.000	€ 375 plus 10% over the principal
€ 10.000	€ 625 plus 5% over the principal
€ 200.000	€ 875 plus 1% over the principal
OVER € 200.000	€ 2.775 plus 0,5% over the principal

The extra-judicial collection costs shall not be less than  $\in$  40.

ARTICLE 5 | SECURITIES

- 1. Vendor shall retain title to delivered products as long as purchaser:
  - Fails or shall fail to fulfil its obligations from this or other agreements.
     Has not fulfilled claims arising from the breach of these agreements, such as damage, penalties, interest and costs.
- For the duration of the retention of title purchaser shall be considered as holding the products for vendor and must store or hold them identifiable as the vendor's property. Vendor shall have access to its products, wherever they may be located, at all times until ownership is transferred. During the retention of title purchaser shall not transfer ownership of the products to third parties or encumber them with third party rights that transfer the products, except to the extent required in the normal course of purchaser's business.
- In the event of non-compliance with the foregoing the purchaser shall be liable to a fine of 10% of the outstanding receivables.
- Vendor shall have a lien and a right of retention on all products that it, for whatever reason, has in its possession or shall receive and all claims it has on purchaser or might receive with respect to any party that requires delivery of such.

ARTICLE 6 | COMPLAINTS

- 1. Complaints must be reported to vendor in writing immediately on detection, valid up to 1 year after delivery. The purchaser must inspect the products for visible defects immediately after receipt. Vendor does not have to deal with complaints made after 1 year except in case of a hidden defect.
- 2. The submission of a complaint shall not result in an extension of the payment deadline.
- 3. In the event of a complaint, the purchaser may only return the products insofar as the vendor has approved that in writing. Should vendor not give its approval, it must provide justification for such refusal.
- 4. Vendor must always have the opportunity to resolve purchaser's complaints. Repairs by third parties will not be compensated by vendor without its prior written approval.

ARTICLE 7 | GUARANTEE

- 1. From the date of invoice the vendor gives the purchaser and the first user guarantee on the products it delivers for defects attributable to the vendor that appear during normal use. This is based on the following write-off procedure:
  - . Within 1 year after the invoice date: The costs of repair or replacement, including the shipment in the Netherlands, are wholly at the expense of the vendor;
  - Within 2 years after the invoice date: The costs of repair or replacement, including the shipment in the Netherlands, are 2/3 at the expense of the vendor;
     Within 3 years after the invoice date: The costs of repair or replacement, including the shipment in the Netherlands, are 1/3 at the expense of the vendor.
  - These deadlines can be exceeded by a maximum of four months if the delivery took place after the invoice date. If the defect can be properly repaired, the vendor does not have to replace the product.
- 2. In accordance with Dutch law purchaser must prevent or limit its damage to as great an extent as possible and must maintain and treat the product properly and adequately.
- 3. Irregularities in colour, wear resistance, structure, etc. can limit or exclude the right to guarantee and/or compensation for damages. This is the case if, in a technical sense, the irregularities are acceptable according to applicable, normal standards or trade usage.

ARTICLE 8 | LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

- 1. To the extent legally permitted, the vendor's responsibility for damage due to defects of the products delivered is limited to the net invoice amount of the delivery, unless the consequences of this waiver are verifiably unreasonably burdensome for purchaser.
- 2. Under no circumstances is the vendor responsible for indirect and /or consequential damages, including, but not limited to, claims from third parties or loss of earnings.
- 3. The seller accepts no responsibility for a design worked out by or for the buyer. Design includes the specification of dimensions and materials given. If the buyer provides materials or parts to the seller for further assembly or processing then the seller is not responsible for these materials and parts or the suitability of the materials and parts for processing or assembly by the seller.

ARTICLE 9 | NON-ATTRIBUTABLE SHORTCOMING

- 1. Vendor has the right to withhold performance of its obligations if it is temporarily prevented from fulfilling its contractual commitments to the purchaser due to force majeure.
- 2. The term "non-attributable shortcoming" shall include the circumstances that suppliers, vendor's subcontractors, suppliers or hauliers hired by the vendor do not (timely) meet their obligations, due to the weather, fire, earthquakes, power outage, roadblocks, strikes or work stoppages, diseases, lack of staff and import or trade restrictions.
- If there is a question of a non-attributable shortcoming and compliance remains or will remain impossible, the execution of the order shall be suspended until such circumstance shall cease, unless the vendor shall notify purchaser in writing within 90 days after the occurrence of such circumstance, that the order shall, to the extent that is has not yet been completed, be terminated.
- 4. Parties have no right to compensation as a result of the suspension or the termination in the sense of this article for damages incurred or to be suffered.

ARTICLE 10 | APPLICABLE LAW AND COMPETENT COURT

- 1. Dutch law exclusively is applicable to all tenders, agreements and the execution thereof.
- 2. All disputes shall, insofar as they are outside the jurisdiction of the district court, be referred to the Court in the district in which the vendor is established.
